

SUPPORT WORLDCRAFTS

WorldCrafts grows when you spread the word; purchase products; or give to the Jackson/Reese Endowment. Telling others about WorldCrafts and purchasing products boost artisans' income and build their hope. Making a tax-deductible gift helps expand the work to new artisans.

Learn

In the US an estimated 125 ethnic communities in urban areas retain their cultural heritage. Many internationals move into smaller communities to attend college or to work. Today, at everyday locations, you can see and experience a variety of cultures, languages, dress, and foods. Learn more about internationals in your community and connect with them to make a difference.

Do

How do we learn and teach the importance of diversity?

- Arrange a world learning area in your home.
- Take your family to ethnic food restaurants.
- Visit local cultural events.
- Read books about other countries.
- Have an international dinner in your home.
- Shop for WorldCrafts with your family: a gift for grandparents, other family members, and teachers.

Teach

Encourage your children to go through the WorldCrafts catalog and choose gift items for family members, teachers, and friends. Then, challenge them to research the countries and people groups from which the gift items come. Help the children write on a notecard the information that they learned to give with the gift.

Host

Host a WorldCrafts event for a rewarding experience. You'll spend quality time with friends, raise awareness for a wonderful cause, and help people living in poverty all at the same time.

A WorldCrafts event can be as simple or elaborate as you choose. Use event planner, ideas in this catalog, and online hostess support.

Share

Share your catalog with a friend. Tell others about the WorldCrafts ministry. Show your friends the WorldCrafts DVD. Print downloadable information cards from the event section of our Web site, www.WorldCraftsVillage.com, and carry them in your WorldCrafts bag or purse.

Give

Use the return envelope in the catalog to mail a gift for WorldCrafts to the WMU Foundation. The Jackson/Reese Endowment for WorldCrafts provides essential support to help expand WorldCrafts and its artisans.

Shop

Shop online from the full line of products at www.WorldCraftsVillage.com or shop using your catalog of the most current products. Each purchase you make makes a difference in the life of artisans and their families.

Help Tell the Story

Around the globe, WorldCrafts gives a voice to people who have been silenced. WorldCrafts brings hope to men and women in need, not only physically, but also spiritually. You can help WorldCrafts continue telling these stories and bringing hope by giving to the Jackson/Reese Endowment for WorldCrafts.

The Jackson/Reese Endowment provides essential support to WorldCrafts. It expands the work to include new artisans, reach new countries, and build new relationships. A gift to the Jackson/Reese Endowment enables WorldCrafts to touch more people and bring more beautiful, affordable artwork to you.

A gift to this endowment is also the perfect Christmas, birthday, or anniversary gift for the person who has everything! Make a gift in honor or memory of a loved one or special friend.

Consider making a gift to the endowment that matches the amount you spend on any WorldCrafts products. All gifts will be acknowledged and are tax deductible.

Please mail your donation separately from your order.
