

The Power

We firmly believe that there is a power within each girl to change the world. You can allow this power to work through you to change your life, your community, and your world for Jesus Christ.

The Acteens® theme is G3: The Power of a Girl to Change the World. We focus on three girls in G3: you, the girl next door, and the girl on the other side of the world.

We are taking this theme and applying it to the Power Project, which will allow you to learn, look, and love while focusing on a growing problem within our world, nation, and local communities: human trafficking. We will take a year to focus our attention on the Power Project. Our desire is to see Acteens become more aware of the problem of human trafficking and have the opportunity to do something about it.

Our hope is that individual Acteens and/or Acteens groups across the nation will take on our challenge of creating their own "Power Project."

You can create a project by yourself or get your whole Acteens group involved.

It could be anything from planning an event to promote awareness about human trafficking to a bake sale to raise money and support for any organization(s) that fights human trafficking. It can be whatever you feel the Lord is calling you to do. You have a voice, and you now have the option to make a difference and have your voice heard.

Project

by Mary Baggett

The Power Project is divided into three sections: Learn, Look, and Love.

LEARN

You will learn facts and statistics about human trafficking so that you can inform yourself and those in your community about this issue. We will use the Acteens website, the Acteens blog, social media, and other resources to help you as you through this year-long journey.

Acteens from all over the nation will be praying about human trafficking in our country and the world.

Look

You will look around your community and the world to figure out where you want to make a difference in human trafficking. You can explore your city, your state, the United States, or even the world. This is your chance to dig in and make a difference.

We will provide resource information to help you as you begin this process. There will be a place online where you can connect with other Acteens from across the United States to share stories, ideas, tips, and how-to's of planning your project.

Love

During the month of January 2012, you will complete your Power Project. Then you will have the chance to share online what you have done for your Power Project. This will allow you to see what other projects have been done across the United States. We will pick two or three projects to feature in an article in The Mag. From March to August, you will be following up with your projects and will continue praying.

The Power Project is an incredible opportunity for you and/or your Acteens group to live out the G3 motto by focusing on how you can make a difference in the life of a girl next door and a girl on the other side of the world. The G3 motto is more than a theme. It is a way of life. Throughout the Power Project year, you will be fully living out what it means to be a missions-focused young woman in Christ.

We are so excited about this opportunity and experience. We have full confidence in your abilities, talents, and determination. We hope you will begin to pray about your involvement. Together through the Power Project, Acteens are going to make a difference in our global community to help in the efforts to end human trafficking.

We hope the Power Project will change your life. And we will be with you every step of the way.

Mary Baggett was a Blume™ intern at national WMU®. She got married in May, and moved back home to Nashville, Tennessee.